

THE L I ' L JOURNAL PROJECT

take different handwriting samples and use them as a guide. download different fonts and notice the letters. WRITE IN ALL CAPITAL LETTERS. Write in all lowercase letters. practice writing some of your favorite quotes in another handwriting. Ask a few friends to write out the following sentence in all capital letters and all lowercase and collect their handwriting samples: the quick brown fox jumps over the lazy dog. That's a pangram (a phrase that contains all of the letters of the English alphabet.) the quick brown fox jumps over the lazy dog. THE QUICK BROWN FOX JUMPS OVER THE LAZY DOG. the quick brown fox jumps over the lazy dog. THE QUICK BROWN FOX JUMPS OVER THE LAZY DOG. the quick brown fox jumps over the lazy dog. THE QUICK BROWN FOX JUMPS OVER THE LAZY DOG. the quick brown fox jumps over the lazy dog. THE QUICK BROWN FOX JUMPS OVER THE LAZY DOG.

the quick brown fox jumps over the lazy dog.

Practice your cursive: No one seems to write in cursive anymore. Handwriting is becoming a lost art. Write the alphabet all in cursive: abcdefghijklmnopqrstuvwxyz.

MIX UP DIFFERENT FONTS AND HANDWRITING TO SPICE THINGS UP A LITTLE! USE A STENCIL OR PRETEND TO USE A STENCIL.

When you see handwriting samples you like...copy them down or take picture. doodle when you can't think of what to write. DON'T BE AFRAID TO EXPERIMENT...YOU CAN CHANGE YOUR HANDWRITING DAILY...OR midsentence! If you are unhappy with a portion of your journal....step away, take a deep breath and come back to it later. Nothing is set in stone. CHANGE YOUR PEN. WRITE WITH A CRAYON. USE LITTLE LETTER STICKERS. USE

a correction pen to cover up things you don't like. Just have fun. There are no mistakes.
